Bike Helmets and Ice Cream

This past summer, the city partnered with Johnson's Ice Cream to provide free ice cream coupons to children found wearing a bicycle helmet while riding their bikes. The majority of the coupons were handed out by bike officers. The program ended for the summer on September 30th and 225 coupons have been redeemed for free ice cream. We again want to thank Johnson's Ice Cream for their partnership and their efforts to help promote safety in New Albany.

Wearing helmets can reduce the risk of a head injury by up to 85% and 75% of all fatal cycling accidents involve a head injury. Facts like those is what lead the City of New Albany to enact a bike helmet law in March of 2016. The law requires all riders under 18 years old to wear a bike helmet. The intent was to save lives by creating better habits. The cities efforts to promote bicycle safety dates back over ten years when the safety town program began and children attending were provide free helmets and learned the importance of wearing them while riding.

Drug Drop Box

The City of New Albany offers the community an opportunity to dispose of unneeded prescription medications. In the department's lobby (open 24 hours a day/7 days a week) is a prescription drug disposal box. Citizens can bring in unwanted medications and the department will have them destroyed at no expense to the public. Only pills, including blister packs, can be submitted currently (no syringes, liquids, illicit drugs, etc.). The department has collected 142 pounds of prescription pills since the program's inception in 2017. This program aides in curbing the potential for the abuse of opioids/pain management medications.

Personnel Updates

Sergeant Strahler

Sergeant Joel Strahler, who was promoted earlier this year, has begun the Law Enforcement Foundation's Supervisor Training and Education Program (STEP). The program is comprised of nineteen modules completed during three week long segments.

New Officers

The city has several new officers who are in different stages of beginning their law enforcement career. Officer Steven Persinger has completed the police academy and is currently in the last phase of his field training. He is anticipated to complete his field training in October. Officer Jacob Steinbrueck is currently attending the Columbus Police Academy and will be graduating near the end of the year. Lastly, three officer applicants have accepted conditional job offers. If they successfully complete the remaining tests they will likely start the police academy in December.

Dispatcher

The background investigations of several dispatcher applicants was complete along with applicant interviews. The hiring process is anticipated to be completed in October with successful applicant(s) beginning their training by the end of the year.
