Safety Town

The Safety Town program returned to New Albany this summer. The safety educational camp is held each summer for children entering kindergarten or first grade in the upcoming school year. Lessons are taught by teachers, New Albany police officers, Plain Township firefighters and teen volunteers. Children have the opportunity to practice bike and pedestrian safety, tour the police and fire stations, and learn about animal and water safety.

Thanks to the support of our sponsors, New Albany Plain Local School District, Plain Township Fire Department, New Albany Mayor Sloan Spalding and City Council along with the work of the teaching staff, administrative staff, volunteers, firemen, and the police officers this year's safety town returned to the success it has seen over the past 15 years. This year 458 campers graduated and nearly 5900 children have attended safety town since its inception in 2004.

Safety Assessment

Sergeant Daniels and Officer Catanese, along with representatives from Columbus Police Department, assisted Facebook and Turner Construction with a site safety assessment. The department is often asked to assist local businesses with security assessments and active threat based training. The department appreciates the opportunity to build relationships with the community and businesses, especially when an opportunity to enhance safety is developed. We look forward to working with Facebook and local businesses in the future to create a worthwhile and viable safety plan that will improve security and police response in the event of an emergency.

Officer Hiring

The New Albany Police Department welcomed new recruit, Hope Mills, who was sworn in by City Manager Joe Stefanov. Mills began the Columbus Police Academy on June 22nd, where she will train for the next six months, graduating in the summer of 2022.

Community Engagement

Sergeant Garrett Fernander and Officer Nate Ferguson enjoyed a “lemonade run” this month, as they stopped by a stand run by young residents Oscar and Will in the Hampsted Heath neighborhood! The officers have enjoyed this summer’s return to getting out and interacting with residents in our community.

Earlier this month, Chief Greg Jones along with other city officials participated in the virtual Town Hall presented by Setting Objectives Achieving Results– African American Parent Network (SOAR-AAPN) in partnership with the City of New Albany, the Inclusion, Diversity & Equity Action (IDEA) committee, New Albany-Plain Local Schools, Pride New Albany and the New Albany Community Foundation. Chief Jones had the opportunity to answer questions from the community and discuss the departments goals and actions to create a more inclusive community and department.
