DEPARTMENT HIGHLIGHTS

February 2022

Personnel Changes

Detective McCord and Officer Nauman have been selected as the department's newest sergeants. Detective McCord has been with the New Albany Police Department since 2016 and has served as a patrol officer and detective. Officer Nauman began with the New Albany Police Department in 2018. Since joining the department, he has served as a patrol officer, firearms instructor and drone operator. They will begin their roles as second and third shift sergeants in May 2022.

Promoting two officers to sergeant will enable the department to fill the vacancy created when Sergeant Kris Daniels was promoted to lieutenant and will add a second sergeant position on both the afternoon and night shifts. The sergeants will have offsetting days off to optimize supervision coverage and will be particularly helpful in covering supervisors' vacations and trainings.

New Detective

Officer Wall was selected to fill the detective position which will be vacated by Detective McCord. Officer Wall joined the department in 1994 and has served as patrol officer, detective, property room custodian and drone pilot. He played an integral role in developing the detective position and served as the department's only detective for much of his career. Officer Wall has been a great asset to the department and a resource for his coworkers.

Leadership New Albany

Chief Greg Jones and Lieutenant Kris Daniels gave a presentation to the Leadership New Albany program this month as part of the Local Government session. The presentation provided a comprehensive overview of the department, its many functions within the community and they were given a tour of the department. Detective McCord is also a class participant in this year's program.

Chamber Job Fair

The New Albany Chamber of Commerce presented the Community Showcase & Job Fair this month at the Church of Resurrection. Lieutenant Kris Daniels along with Officer Leland Kelly and Human Resources Officer Lindsay Rasey were in attendance to recruit for the New Albany Police Department.
